HISTORICAL SKETCH.

Previous to 1871 Victoria University had no Faculty of Theology, but many students in preparation for the ministry received instruction in the Arts course, taking their Theological studies elsewhere. Biblical History, Biblical Greek and Hebrew, Ethics, and Christian Evidences formed a part of the Arts curriculum. For the special advantage of candidates for the Methodist ministry, classes were formed in Wesley's Sermons and Watson's Institutes, and occasional classes also in Homiletics and Church Discipline.

In 1871 the Faculty of Theology was established, largely as the result of the generous gifts made for that purpose by Mr. and Mrs. Edward Jackson, of Hamilton, whose memory is gratefully cherished in our halls. The Rev. N. Burwash, B.D., was made Professor of Biblical Literature and Theology. Associated with him were Rev. Chancellor Nelles, John Wilson, M.A., and Rev. A. H. Reynar, M.A. Dr. Burwash was formerly Professor of Chemistry and Natural History in the Faculty of Arts, and he continued for some years to occupy the dual position, giving instruction in Hebrew and Aramaic, Old and New Testament Exegesis, and Systematic Theology, in addition to his lectures in Natural Science. In 1874 Dr. Burwash was made Dean of the Faculty. The other professors also held positions in the Faculty of Arts, yet they cheerfully undertook the additional labor then imposed upon them.

From the beginning a broad curriculum was framed, in which Biblical studies had a central place, and a high standard of excellence was sought. A course of four years was offered in Arts and Theology, leading to the degree of Bachelor of Divinity. This, however, was replaced in 1874 by a course similar to that now provided, requiring three years' study in Theology, at least two years of which must be taken after graduation in Arts. Instruction was also given in the subjects of the ordinary Conference course prescribed for probationers. Then, as now, the close association of students in Arts and Theology, due to the intimate relationship of the two Faculties, was regarded as of the highest value in promoting a broad and truly Christian culture.

From the first the tone of the theological work of Victoria College has been decidedly Biblical. The historical method rather than the dogmatic has prevailed. A warmly evangelical spirit has gone hand-in-hand with the modern scientific temper; and Victoria men have thus been well prepared for all reasonable changes in the formulation and presentation of the Christian faith. In the first year twenty-five students were enrolled in Theology. In 1874 the first class graduated, and the degree of B.D. was bestowed upon three candidates—Hugh Johnston, M.A., J. R. Ross, M.A., and A. L. Russell, M.A.

In 1883 Rev. G. C. Workman, M.A., became Adjunct Professor in Theology, and in 1885 he was made Professor of Old Testament Exegesis and Literature, which position he held until his resignation in 1892. In 1884, upon the union of Albert College with Victoria, Rev. Dr. Badgley, formerly professor in Albert College, became Professor of Mental and Moral Philosophy in Arts, and Professor of Apologetics in Theology. He continued a highly esteemed member of the Faculty of Theology until his death in 1905. In 1887 Rev. Dr. Burwash became Chancellor of the University. In the same year Rev. F. H. Wallace, M.A., B.D., was made Professor of New Testament Exegesis and Literature, and subsequently Secretary of the Faculty. Upon the removal of the University to Toronto in 1892 the Faculty was enlarged. The Rev. John Burwash, M.A., D.Sc., became Professor of Homiletics and English Bible, and the Rev. J. F. McLaughlin, B.A., B.D., became Professor of Old Testament Exegesis and Literature. In 1900 Professor Wallace was made Dean of the Faculty. In 1906 Rev. Dr. Blewett was appointed Professor of Ethics and Apologetics, in succession to the late Rev. Dr. Badgley, and Rev. R. P. Bowles, M.A., B.D., Professor of Homiletics and Pastoral Theology. In 1908 Rev. A. P. Misener, M.A., B.D., was appointed Associate Professor of Old Testament Exegesis and Literature. In 1909 Rev. George Jackson, B.A., became Professor of English Bible. In 1910 Rev. Professor Reynar and Rev. Professor John Burwash became Professores Emeriti. In 1912 Rev. Professor Misener died, after a brief career full of achievement and promise. Rev. W. A. Potter, B.A., B.D., was thereupon appointed Lecturer in Old Testament Exegesis and Literature. W. H. Greaves, M.A., was appointed Associate Professor of Public Speaking.

In 1912-13 the College suffered by the sudden death of Professor Blewett, who during his too brief career had produced a profound impression as thinker, teacher, and writer, and by the resignations of Professor Jackson and Chancellor Burwash. Professor Jackson returned to England to fill an honorable position in Didsbury College. Chancellor Burwash retired after a long, arduous, and most distinguished career as teacher and administrator, full of years and honors. W. B. Lane, M.A., Ph.D., was appointed Professor of Ethics and Didactics; the Rev. J. Hugh Michael, M.A., Associate Professor of New Testament Exegesis and Literature; and W. T. Brown, M.A., Ph.D., Lecturer in Ethics and Apologetics.

During 1913-14 Rev. John Burwash, LL.D., Professor Emeritus, died full of years and honors; and Rev. A. J. Johnston, B.A., was appointed Associate Professor of Homiletics and Pastoral Theology and of Church History.

The present staff consists of twelve instructors, and Victoria can offer to theological students all the advantages of a fully equipped Theological College. The number of students enrolled in 1913-14 was two hundred and twenty-five, in marked contrast to the small group of twenty-five in 1871.

Although intended specially for the training of candidates for the ministry of the Methodist Church, this College has from the first opened its classes, its examinations, its degrees, and most of its prizes and scholarships to members in good standing of some Christian Church.

REGISTRATION AND EXAMINATIONS.

Students are expected to register with the Dean of the Faculty before the opening of the term in autumn. Students not registered before the close of the first week of term may be registered and allowed to attend lectures only by special permission of the Faculty, on written application.

All students of Theology whose courses involve Arts subjects will be under the same rules as the Arts students in the matter of late registration. viz., every petition for registration subsequent to the twenty-ninth of September and prior to the first of November, must be accompanied by a sum of money reckoned at one dollar per diem for each day after the twenty-ninth of September.

Examinations may be granted in January to students in actual attendance, on subjects in which no lectures are delivered. Not more than four papers may be taken by any one student at this examination.

Papers may be sent out in April and September to approved presiding examiners for students who are stationed on circuit for the year by Conference authority. All others must write at the college. No papers will be sent out in January.
